

Baja Verapaz Cubulco

Guatemala Green Coffee Beans |
Genuine Origin

Located in central Guatemala, Cubulco is situated near the Sierra de las Minas and Sierra de Chuacus mountain ranges. Moist clay soil and a rainy and temperate-to-cold climate help the cherries mature slowly and develop the coffee's signature notes of milk chocolate, citrus and hazelnut.

Cubulco is part of the department of Baja Verapaz, a region with improving living conditions and a high percentage of indigenous peoples, who are descendants of the Achi ethnic group. The area's coffee producers are smallholders who use traditional agricultural practices and operate their own wet mills.

Origin

Guatemala

Region

Cubulco, Baja Verapaz

Producer

Las Anonas, Las naranjas,
La esperanza, Grano de Oro, Finca las Piedras and other small farms

Processing

Washed

Harvest Schedule

December - March

Variety

Catuai, Pache-San Ramon,
Sarchimor, Bourbon, Caturra

Altitude (MASL)

1600-1800

