Coffee Background

Nestled in the hills of Siguatepeque in the Comayagua department, Finca Las Moras is one of Genuine Origin's own farms. The farm serves a dual purpose: first as a Volcafe Way training lab where our field techs and agronomists demonstrate best practices coffee farming for visiting producers. Second as a functional farm that produces coffee, experiments with different coffee varieties and tests out new processing methods.

The Parainema variety is a cultivar of the Sarchimor family of Arabica hybrids, and it caused a big stir in Honduras in 2017 when it won the Cup of Excellence, elevating its reputation in the minds of farmers and importers.
