Coffee Background

Western El Salvador is a celebrated agricultural region, with the department of Ahuachapán at its heart. Nestled near the Guatemalan border, Ahuachapán is known for its coffee production. Part of the Apaneca-Illamatepec mountain range, the area boasts many of the El Salvador's most prestigious coffee farms.

Café Santa Teresa operates as a network of farms within the Ahuachapán department. The partner farms cultivate a diverse range of shade-grown coffee varieties, including Bourbon, Pacamara, Sarchimor, Icatu, Geisha, Castillo, and Tabi. Four farms contributed to producing this washed lot. They are:

- Finca Montecristo in Ataco at 1,300 to 1,350masl
- Finca Los Nogales in Ataco at 1,300 to 1,350masl
- Fincas Altamira 1, 2 & 3 in Apaneca at 1,300 to 1,400masl
- Finca Santa Teresa next to Termales Santa Teresa at 1,200 to 1,300masl
