Coffee Background

"We believe in a future where every sip of coffee not only delights the senses but also supports the livelihoods of our farming communities." Andres Rodriguez, El Faro Coffee Hub Founder

Nestled in the rolling hills of Colombia's Huila region, El Faro Coffee Hub stands as a symbol of passion, sustainability, and community empowerment. Founded by Andres Rodriguez and spanning three generations, El Faro encompasses everything from production and processing to export. At the heart of their offerings is the rare pink bourbon variety, cultivated at high altitudes under the careful stewardship of local farmers who carry generations of expertise.

With a commitment to fair trade and sustainability, El Faro supports growers through training, renewable energy initiatives, and programs like Empowered Women, ensuring both exceptional coffee and a thriving farming community. This meticulously produced washed pink bourbon coffee reflects the dedication of Huila's farmers and El Faro's mission to elevate Colombian coffee while making a lasting social impact.
