Coffee Background

Sourced from the fertile landscapes of Karagwe in Tanzania's Kagera Region, Robusta 16 Superior embodies the strength and character that East African Robustas are known for. Grown at elevations of 900-1300 meters, this coffee thrives in deep, nutrient-rich soils nourished by rainfall that stretches from September through June.

The region's proximity to Lake Victoria provides a climatic buffer that shapes both the agricultural rhythm and the livelihood of local communities, where coffee and fishing coexist as key sources of income.

Production comes almost entirely from smallholder farmers, each typically managing about 1.2 acres of land. Collectively, these producers harvest an impressive 85,000-90,000 metric tons of dry cherry each season.

Robusta Natural 16 Superior is both powerful and nuanced. It's an ideal green coffee for roasters seeking depth, crema, and a distinctive East African edge.
